ALBANY.

George H. Kenaston, who went from Albany ten months ago, to Plover, Wis., is home on a visit. He reports snow near three feet deep at Buffalo.

The juveniles of the West village and vicinity are enjoying a nice little singing school under the very efficient leadership of Mr. A. B. Sargent. He opened his class a few weeks ago, composed principally of children, a number of whom had but little more knowledge of written music than of Hebrew, and now, after some twelve or fourteen lessons they are able, not only to read, but to sing ordinary church tunes. Monday eve, Nov. 25, Mr. Sargent marched his little band of warblers in triumph into the new church, where, assisted by a few of the older singers, he gave to the people of this community as grand a concert as it is often their privilege to attend. The concert consisted of solos, quartettes, songs, etc., a few tableaux being introduced for seasoning. It was all good, decidedly. We would mention particularly the four tableaux entitled "The happiest time." They were indeed most wondrously beautiful. One hardly knew whether to laugh or cry. The accompanying song rendered in the rich, mellow alto of Miss Nettie Darling, was sufficient to move the heart of any one. We would also mention the song by "the host," Mr. Sargent, and others by Miss Jennie McClary and Mrs. Clara Sanders. We are happy to say that the proceeds of the concert are to be appropriated to the extension of the school.

BARTON.
Remember Sewing Circle Thursday.
Fresh arrival of New Sleights at Chas. J. Offords.
Thanks to Bro. I. K. Drew for that very acceptable Birth-Day present.
J. W. MALCOLM.
The winter term of the Barton Graded School commences next Thursday.
The new whistle on the Emmons Raymond, is the old one with a "stick" in it.
Subject of lecture next Sunday afternoon by the pastor of the brick house: "How to make a fire."

A bottle of Weeks' Magic Compound cured in three days' time, a severe case of the epizootic in this town.
Sleigh-bells commenced their jingling last Friday. Something over a foot of snow fell between nine and three o'clock.
Now is the time of year to look after your stove pipe and chimneys. See that everything is in a perfectly safe condition for all kinds of weather.
The noon express train last Tuesday, at Folsom's crossing, near South Barton, smashed up a wagon for a man by the name of Bemis and sent him end over end for six or eight rods without seriously injuring him. After recovering his equilibrium he wanted to know "Who threw that last brick?"

The citizens of the Landing do not propose to burrow up and lie torpid this winter, but to make lively and cheerful the long winter evenings, have made efforts sufficient to secure to themselves—and all who will come—the benefit of a course of lectures; the first to be given to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, by our fellow-townsmen, Gen. Wm. W. Groat, who will have for his subject "ROBERT BURNS," and "by the way," gentlemen of the Landing, it is worth going to hear.

Mr. Charles W. Brooks, of Barton Landing is about to canvass this section for some very valuable books: "The Light in the East" of which mention is made in another column, and "Life in Utah," which will be noticed next week. Mr. Brooks is a slender boy, not in very good health, with neither father or mother and dependent upon his own honesty and ingenuity for a livelihood. We judge from his appearance, and from the fact that he subscribed and paid in advance for the Monitor—that he is honest and deserving of sympathy and patronage. When he calls, look at his books, and if you want some good reading for the long winter evenings, you cannot do better than to subscribe for one or both of these books. Unlike some agents, Mr. Brooks has not forty miles of well-learned riddle-rabble to reel off and tire one to death with an everlasting and jumbled-up mess of incomprehensible clack.

The several cattle drovers on the line of the Passumpsic Railroad, showed their appreciation for the assistance and many little kindnesses rendered them on various occasions by Conductor John Gale, by presenting him with a handful of scrip, to the amount of twenty-five dollars, one day last week. It is a fine thing to come across a man, who is not so bound up in his own conceit, that he is not afraid to do a christian act to his fellow humans once in a while. In Mr. Gale, the drovers recognize one of these men. And it is not also a fine thing to deal with men who have enough of the sense of appreciation to know when they are well used, and at the same time so free from vanity that they are not afraid to acknowledge it in some way. Such little acts of kindness and appreciation have much to do towards drawing humanity nearer together, and driving away the bog and fiend-like tigerishness which lurks in the bosom of many a two-legged wild cat.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The fall term of the Barton High School closed Friday, Nov. 22. The examination showed great thoroughness of instruction as well as satisfactory advancement. The exhibition of declamation and English composition were full of interest. In the high department, under the instruction of Miss Chase, Principal, Misses Elsie Rowell, Laura Martin, Jessie Hubbard and Arthur Hunt received no absent marks, and Elsie Rowell and Laura Martin, no marks of any kind against their name. A. Twombly, Ella and Geo. Owen, and Clarence Kenyon, absent one-half day only. 31 pupils in all in this department, 10 of whom were non-resident. Only eight tardy marks for the whole school. The Principal reports that the heavy burden she had to bear through the term has been much lightened by the individual efforts on the part of the students to study, together with their kindness and respect constantly paid to her.

2d Department.—Teacher, Miss Webster. Bertha Joslyn, Amy and Susie Belknap, Ida Twombly, Ida Gray, Delight Kimball, Emma Caswell, Emma Brunning, C. Varney, W. Whitchoy, J. Parker, W. Carr, H. Belfast, no absent marks. Amy Belknap, Lola Dwinell, Bertha Joslyn, E. and M. Caswell, Mattie Hamlet, Carrie Rowell, E. Brunning, W. Whitchoy, J. Parker, G. Clark, no tardy marks. E. Caswell, no mark against her. Miss Webster possessed the faculty of securing the affection of her pupils as was evident by the very tasty and appropriate present from the students.

3d Department.—Teacher, Miss Mosman. Miss M. has the power to govern and to instruct without any apparent effort. Without any trouble, punishment or threat, the little army obeys her perfectly, if possible. Her pupils, though young, are taught the correct use of English by example and precept, so that many of them make old folks think of our i-n-g-a, verbs, &c. The following received no marks: Frank Taylor, Eddie Folsom, Bertha Elliott, Cora Ruggles, Myrtle Colliston, Jennie Twombly, Madeline Folsom, Myra Dwinell, Addie Morse, Minnie Colliston, Geo. Jenness. Geo. Jenness did not miss in arithmetic; Bertha Elliott, 3 times; Addie Morse twice. This was Addie's first term at school.

In spelling G. Jenness missed twice, Cora Ruggles do, Jennie Ruggles 3, Bertha Elliott 5. Lizzie Nelson did not miss a word during term. Sam'l Nelson (only 6 years old) only 3 words, and Mary Booth none. Whole number of scholars 33; only 4 tardy marks during term. Girls received no tardy marks.

4th Department.—Teacher, Miss Barnard. In the second division of this department 4 scholars received no marks of any kind against their names, viz: Hattie Kimball, Nellie Rowell, M. Devcreaux and Eva Clark. Only two tardy marks given during term. Miss B. is suited to her work, and of course her scholars like to attend rather than stay at home.

BROWNINGTON.
The Congregational society are without a pastor at present, and sermons from different authors are read each Sabbath.

Some persons who attended the exhibition at the hall two weeks ago were doubtless troubled with cold fingers, as they appropriated to their own use several pairs of gloves. We advise them to return the articles and procure their clothing in a more honorable manner.

CRAFTSBURY.
Mr. A. White has leased the grist-mill at the village for one year. Mr. White is an experienced miller and will no doubt give good satisfaction to all who may favor him with their custom.

Typhoid fever is prevailing to some extent in this vicinity. Thus far it has proved fatal in only one instance, Miss Lucy Wiley. Miss Wiley was aged about 20 years, a lady of fair promise, and the oldest daughter of Mr. Wyram Wiley. She leaves many friends and associates to mourn her loss.

Our academy school closed on the 22d ult., with rhetorical exercises. It has been an interesting and profitable term. The teachers, Mr. E. C. Crawford and Miss L. Kinney, gave universal satisfaction; and as a proof of their love and esteem, the scholars presented Mr. Crawford with a $12 present and Miss Kinney with a book worth $6. The number of scholars was 106; daily attendance 100.

CHARLESTON.
Campbell & Taylor of the East Village are enlarging their store, preparatory to filling it with their winter stock of goods.

At the close of the fall term of the Academy of this place, taught by Miss Lydia Hinman, the scholars presented her with a large and costly album, and a stereoscope and a dozen fine views.

On Wednesday of last week, Erastus Davis, a young man at work at Smith's saw mill just above the village, while engaged in oiling the gearing, was caught in it and his right hand badly smashed. The thumb being unjointed and the fingers badly jammed.

COVENTRY.
The fall term of school closed Nov. 22nd, with an exhibition and leave.

The Orleans County sabbath school convention will be held at this place Dec. 18 and 19.

The ladies of this place propose to hold a festival on Christmas eve, and a good time is expected.

Mr. Lock the excellent artist who has been here with his saloon for some weeks has had a good run of business and as he was about leaving town was taken quite sick and has been confined to his room for some two weeks but is now recovering.

DERBY.
A Derby Centre "Canuck" visited "Tom Carter's" "hole in the wall" on Sunday evening and spent the night in the enjoyment of that recherche establishment. He left next day, if not a wiser, a poorer man by some $40.—[Stanstead Journal.]

L. W. Frost of New York, formerly of Derby, has presented the Congregational society at the Centre with a nice organ, costing several hundred dollars.

The Sabbath School at West Derby are to have a Christmas Tree. It is hoped all will take hold with an interest and that the tree will bear much fruit.

Blazing Star Lodge of Good Templars, are prospering finely at present, having initiations nearly every week. They have nearly enough money subscribed to purchase an instrument, which they intend doing soon.

A part of the people of West Derby closed up Thanksgiving Day in a very proper manner, by having a young people's prayer meeting at Frank Mitchell's. There was a good attendance and a good meeting enjoyed. The next meeting will be held at the house of A. J. White, Dec. 5, to which all are cordially invited to attend.

GLOVER.
Mr. F. W. Kimball had an attack of apoplexy last Thursday. His case is a critical one.

Foster's ball was a success—fifty couple took supper. It was a beautiful evening and a respectable gathering.

L. H. Nye, the tanner, we are pleased to state is likely to recover the full value of his leather destroyed in the Boston fire.

Mr. G. W. McGaffey bought a short time since, 120 acres of wood land located on So. Hill.

Property sold well at C. A. Clark's auction. Hay sold for $12.75 per ton. Cows averaged $27.

There is to be a Christmas gathering Dec. 25th, at the Cong. church in the interest of the Sabbath School. A tree will be erected to be loaded it is hoped, with presents. The Sabbath School at W. Glover is cordially invited.

IRASBURGH.
At V. D. Larabee's auction cows sold for from $25 to $40.

Wyram Russell has just killed a pig eight months old which weighed 309 1-2 pounds.

The ladies will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Medcalf has just returned from Boston with a choice selection of millinery goods.

Austin Page says if the one who stole some 70 or 80 pounds of pork from his cellar a few days since, does not come and settle with him soon he will hear from him again.

The ladies of the M. E. church will give an entertainment and oyster supper in the vestry of their church on Thursday eve., Dec. 12. Everybody are invited. Supper 50 cents; children under 12, half price. Admission free.

Mr. James Caples has a HEN which might have gone to market on Thanksgiving Day, but for a motherly act and masterly effort to save her bacon a few days previous, by laying an egg which girted nine inches one way and eight the other. Beat that, mother goose, if you can.

Dr. Parkhurst has sold his village residence to Dr. Geo. B. Rowell of North Troy, Vt. Dr. Rowell has had several years practice in his profession, and no doubt the "little pills" will prove as healing under his care as they have been in the hands of Dr. Parkhurst. Dr. Parkhurst intends to go to Chicago.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid Society are getting up a "Christmas Tree" for Christmas eve. They not only intend to give the rich a chance to remember their friends, but they intend that the boys and girls of the Sabbath School, who are not remembered by their friends, shall be remembered by some one. They also intend to have an oyster supper, the proceeds of which are to go toward paying the debt upon the new church.

The people at the Common narrowly escaped a big fire on the evening of the 25th. Some careless "Johnny Smoker" probably lit his pipe under the shed back of H. C. Waller's store, and throwing down his match before the fire was extinguished, it caught in the dry litter, and when discovered it was burning nicely. A few pails of water extinguished it; but with the heavy gale then blowing it would not have taken long to have made busy work for our fire department.

LYNDON.
Austin Folsom recently lost five hogs in one night—all he had. Disease unknown.

NEWPORT.
Gardner Davis of this place, while coupling cars on the new railroad was caught between the cars and thoroughly squeezed but without any serious injuries.

The fall term of School taught by C. W. Stone, Misses Lane and Kendall, closed on Friday last. It has been a very pleasant term of school and the scholars seemed to be interested in their studies.

SALEM.
Mrs. Benjamin and daughter who went to Switzerland the first of the summer have returned to their home.

SHEFFIELD.
Aaron Gray has sold his village residence to Frank Pearl for about $850.

Geo. Gorman has just opened a blacksmith shop. Give him your patronage, gentlemen, he is said to be a good workman.

Geo. Giffin lost a fine cow last week of lung fever. Elisha Drown lost a horse by its slipping on the ice and breaking a leg.

Isaac Pearl is repairing his buildings. Walden Brown, Esq., is just finishing a large new ell to his house. He has also built a large barn the past season. . . . Hosea Gaffield, formerly of Glover, has erected the past season, on his farm, known as the Hiram Jenness farm, an elegant house, and moved into the same the past week.

Willis Hanscom is the champion fox hunter, he having caught, the past fall, 25; and his brother Barber has taken 9—and shot the tail off the tenth—making 34 between the two. His hound started up and run one two days in succession at two different times, without catching him. He has run the same fox 3 years in succession. Better let him alone now, Willis, he deserves his liberty. Speaking about foxes our informant says: Sam D. Gray of Wheelock, three years ago started up one at Ramsey Four Corners, and "went for him" on foot. He ran him to Lyndon Corner, a distance of nine miles, where he caught him and brought him back alive.

WESTMORE.
A singing school is in progress on the west side of the lake, under the direction of John Miles of Brownington Center.

A. A. Brown lost a horse the 28th from the prevailing distemper. The disease appears to be abating, and the horses are nearly all on the gain.

C. T. Aldrich has rented his sawmill to Carlos Morrow for one year. Mr. Aldrich is making preparation for doing a heavy business in lumbering the coming winter.

One day last week Mr. Alanson Cheney, teamster in this place, started to go to Barton Landing with a load of boards, and when near the outlet of the lake the tire burst from one of the forward wheels, struck the horses' heels and frightened them into a run, but he succeeded in stopping them at the foot of the Gibson hill, after running half a mile and smashing one wheel and otherwise damaging the wagon. The horses received no injury of any amount.

ST. JOHNSBURY.
The Dartmouth College Glee Club gave a concert on Tuesday evening, which was very good. The attendance was rather small, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

Owing to the snow storm and consequent delay of the mail train, on which the lecturer was to have come, the second lecture of the Y. M. C. A., was not given.

The bath rooms just fitted up by F. C. Gill, in the Avenue house block supply a want which has long been felt here, and we hope it will be a financial success. A bathing room always available will tend to promote the cleanliness of any village, and consequently the general health. We hope somebody will emulate Mr. Gill's example in other villages hereabout.

Horace Greeley Dead.

Last Hours of one of the Greatest Newspaper Men of the World.—Closing Scene at the Death-Bed of One Whose Wish in Life was that His Epitaph might be: "Founder of the New York Tribune."

NEW YORK, NOV. 29.
Evening.—The following bulletin of Greeley's condition is the latest issued, 2:52 P. M.: "Mr. Greeley is in a state of almost entire unconsciousness. Since eight A. M. his strength has been failing rapidly. He appears to suffer but little. His pulse at the wrist is imperceptible." Greeley's illness is made the subject of sympathetic comment by all the papers of this city. It is stated that his disease has been pronounced by one of his physicians as inflammation of the brain and its membranes. Most of the time up to two P. M. to-day he has been delirious, talking much, but very incoherently, of life and death, etc. It is also asserted that he has failed to recognize his family, his sister and intimate friends, Mr. Greeley slept eight and one-half hours Wednesday night, which gave him some renewal of strength. During Thursday he was more comfortable than on Wednesday, though very weak and at times unconscious. He received without difficulty a sufficient amount of nourishment. At seven o'clock Thursday night he took beef tea, and soon after went to sleep. He passed a good night, and his condition in the morning was reported to be somewhat improved. His condition, however, was still such as to excite the most serious apprehension. He was constantly attended by his daughter Ida, who watched at his bedside without cessation. At ten o'clock Thursday night his sleep was undisturbed and refreshing, but his pulse was visibly growing weaker.

S. P. M.—Horace Greeley died at ten minutes to seven this evening, aged sixty-one years, ten months and twenty-six days. He died at the house of Dr. Choate, Pleasantville, N. Y. But little hope was entertained that he could live beyond a day or two at most, as from Wednesday till the time of his death he was nearly all the time unconscious. Yesterday he suffered very much, and part of the time was in convulsions. He remained all last night in a state of lethargy, and knew nothing that was going on around him. He took no nourishment, scarcely gave any tokens of life. At four o'clock this afternoon he had no perceptible pulse, and it was thought then he was dying. At five he rallied, opened his eyes, and, as so frequently happens just before death, became conscious. Those standing around his bedside, among whom was his daughter, asked him severally if he knew them, and he said: "Yes, I know you." Then he was asked if he knew certain people, strange names being given. He said: "No, I do not know them;" thus showing he was quite sensible. Then he fell into his old state of lethargy, and gradually sank until the end came at 6:50 P. M. He died without the faintest struggle, and fell, as it were, into a sweet sleep, with a smile playing around his lips. Among those present at his bedside were Ida Greeley, Whitelaw Reid, Dr. Choate, Mrs. Sampson and Dr. Seaguard. The news was telegraphed to the Tribune office by Whitelaw Reid and a bulletin posted. The announcement of his death was received with genuine sorrow in this city, and casts a gloom over all circles here to-night. He will be buried on Monday, and the remains will be conveyed to the family vault at Greenwood.—Boston Globe.

We all consider Iron the embodiment of strength and power, but how few are aware that it is this same element in the system, that gives us strength and vigor, and that an insufficiency of it causes weakness and debility. The Pervian Syrup, a protoxide of iron, is prepared expressly to supply this vitalizing element.
